

RE What makes people and places sacred to people in Cornwall

Summer 2 2022

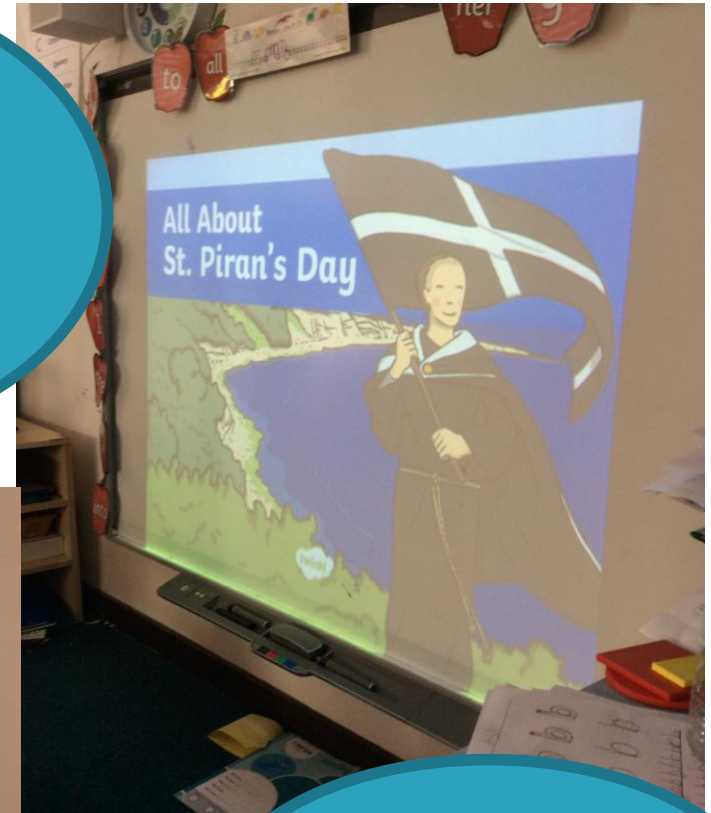

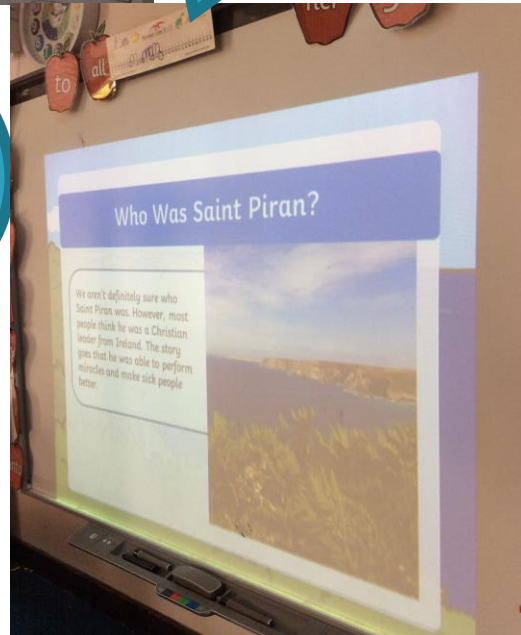

Saint Piran and Saint Petroc

St Piran is a bit like the Prophet Muhammad, he is a messenger for a different God.

Saint Piran's cross looks like the England flag with different colours.

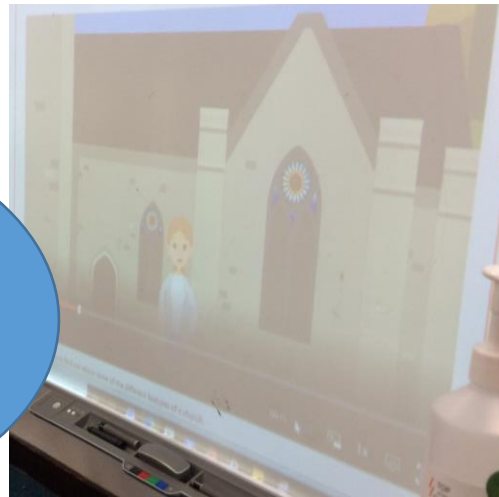

We had pasties on March 5th and scones.

Saints in Cornwall

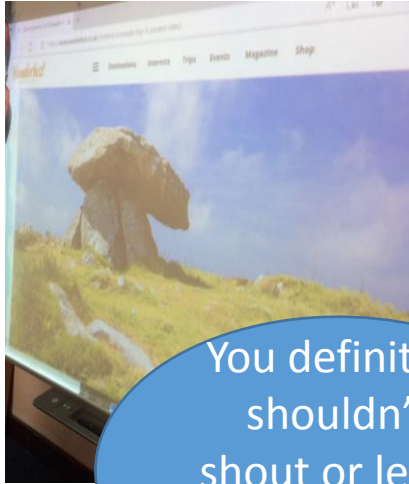

We looked on a map of Cornwall to see how many places were named after Saints. There were so many more than we thought there would be.

I never knew there were so many places and I never knew St meant a real saint person.

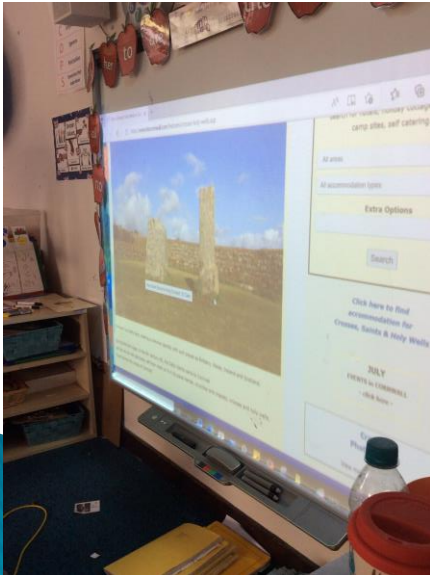

How to behave in sacred places

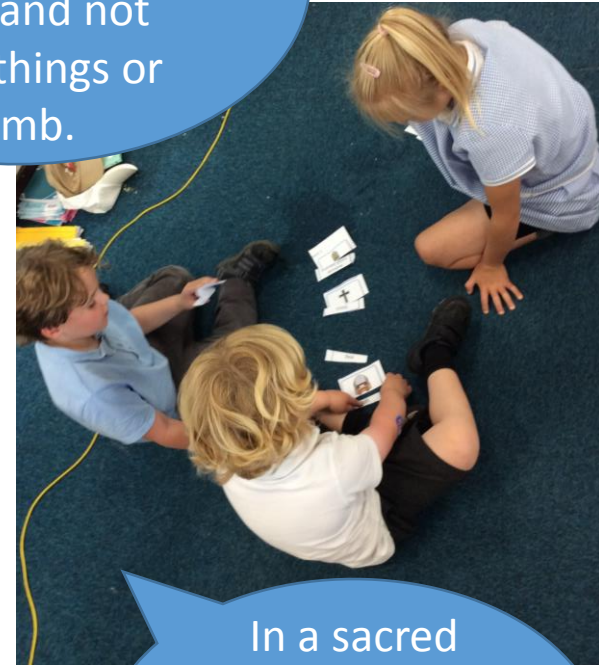

You definitely shouldn't shout or leave your rubbish there.

You should use your respect and responsibility value and not break things or climb.

We looked at photos of some special, local sacred places such as the Hurlers and we also found out about some items in a church. We remembered a few from previous learning.

In a sacred place you should be quiet so people can think.

Visiting St. Andrew's church

People go to remember
Jesus

Sacred places are beautiful. We have to be kind to people there,
respectful, quiet
and no shouting.

This is a font. I remember looking at a picture of one at school.

The church was cold and creepy, it was a bit dark too.

RE FLE YR/1 What makes some people and places in Cornwall sacred?

What we already know:

- A Christian place of worship is a church. Christians believe Jesus and churches bring peace.
