

LES LÉGUMES

French

Summer 2 2023

Class Lynher

We began our topic by learning 5 names for vegetables and playing a game to help us to remember them.

I found it interesting how legumes is used for all vegetables when in English it is particular ones.

It was interesting to see how some words sounded similar to the English word but others were completely different.

We learnt the names of more vegetables and took part in group games.

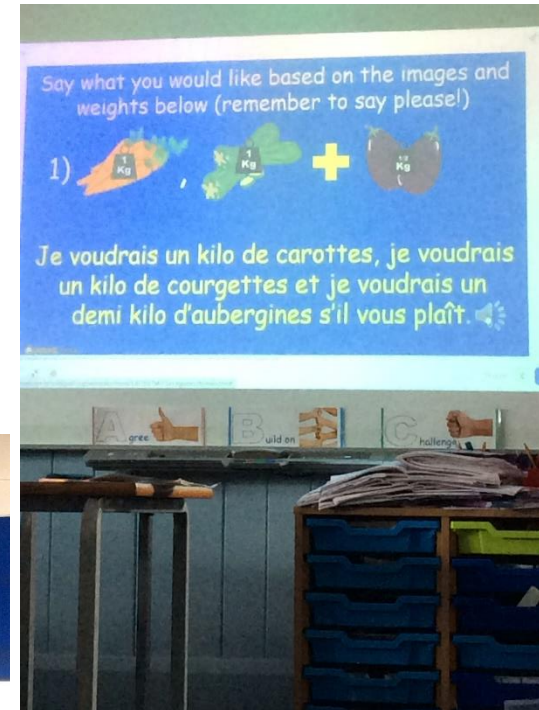

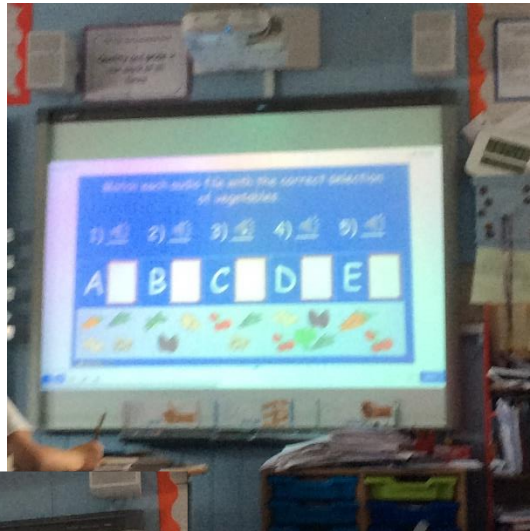

In this lesson we applied the vegetables vocabulary we learnt to making a sentence and saying how much of something we had.

I found it difficult to say it fluently at first but kept practicing.

We learnt to say a conversation as if we were a market seller and a shopper.

We had to use s'il vous plait and merci to say please and thank you.

letters

There are many last consonant silent letters in French. The final 's' is silent in the word 'les' and pronounced similar to the English sound 'leh'. However, if it is followed by a noun that starts with a vowel like 'oignons', 'épinards' or 'aubergines' the 's' in 'les' will be pronounced almost like a 'z' sound. This is called liaison.
